Injured by a Pfizer mRNA vaccine?

You can sue every ingredient maker independently under adulterated product law.

I just got off the phone with attorney Warner Mendenhall. He confirmed I wrote below is true and the litigation floodgates are now open.

Here is a list of 90 lawyers that you can contact if you want to sue the vaccine manufacturers: airtable.com/appGIUGnttjzsc...

It's all sounding so familiar.

"A closely related smokescreen has been created around the safety of anthrax vaccine and its role in Gulf War illnesses."

Even the journal Science commented on the perceived lack of objective science in Gulf War illness research:

"Questions about the Pentagon's ability to objectively study Gulf War illness have dogged the department for years and spawned numerous

This is for food; same adulterated product law.

The lawyer can sue a complex product manufacturer and the ingredient manufacturers independently. Then, typically all of the independent defenses all join together as a united front. Sometimes; some ingredient manufacturers chance...
